Dear [Redacted]

This letter is to inform you that in response to your invitation, we are now preparing a briefing for your group on the subject of our work in image analysis of color materials. We are planning a presentation that will be from thirty to forty-five minutes long, utilizing 35 mm slides for briefing aids. If you desire any change in these plans, please don't hesitate to call me.

For your information, our present budget estimate is [Redacted] for the briefing and consultation services on this effort. We would appreciate reimbursement of this amount if this is possible. I would like to emphasize that we consider your invitation a significant opportunity for our company to present the results of our work before your particular group, and we are looking forward to the meeting on November 19th.

If you have any questions or comments, please let me know.
